Whirls Mary Martin all in blue—
Calico gown and stockings new,
And tinted eyes that tell you true,
Dance all to the dancing sound.

She flits about big Moses Brown, Who holds her hands to keep her down And thinks her hair a golden c own, And his heart turns over once! His chick with Mary's breath is wet, It gives a second somerset! He means to win the maiden yet, Alas for the awkward dunce!

I'd rather dance with one-legged Joe,"

Anothe first pair danced apart.
Then "Irward six!" advance, retreat, Like midges gay in sunbeam street, 'Tis Money Musk by merry feet And the Money Musk by heart! Three-quarters round your partner swing!" Across the set!" The rafters ring.
The girls and boys have taken wing
And have brought their roses out!
Tis "Forward six!" with rustic grace,
All, tarer far than—"Swing to place!"—

Your stoga-boot has crushed my foe!"

Then clasping hands all-"Right and left!" All swiftly weave the measured deft
Across the woof in loving weft,
And the Money Musk is done!
Oh, dancers of the rustling husk,
Good night, sweethearts, 'tis growing dusk,
Good night, for aye to Money Musk,
For the heavy march begun ! For the heavy march begun!

Then bring the dance about.

A WALKING MIRACLE.

Dear Sir-Though a stranger I want to lowed on with it, I had used 16 bottles, at this morning I am going to plough corn, a we man. All my townsmen say it is a miracle tos me round walking and working.

In conclusion I will add, when I was enduring such great suffering, from that drendful issent scrofula. I prayed to the Lord above to take nout of this world, but as Vegetine has restored me the blessings of health. I desire more the ever to live, that I may be of some service to infellow man, and I know of no better way to a suffering humanity, than to enclose you this statement of my case, with an earnest hope that you'll publish it, and it will afford me pleasure to reply to any commandication which I may receit thereirom.

I am, Sir, very respectfully,

T is well known that the whole medical facult of all rebools of medicine have pronounced cares incurable. What sublime effrontry in a person to stand up boldly in the face of all this a hibority, and claim to be able to cure cancer. Put forth such a c aim in the teeth of the medic profession, in the city of Philadelphia, with world-renowned scientific professors and medic colleges, would be, unless it be substantiated the most unquestionable manner, a height of in pudence rarely attained by mortal men. De Thorpe boldly claims that he can cure, has curedoes cure, and will cure cancer, as well as disease of a chronic and scrofulous nature; and, furthed that He cures every case taken by Him. He does this by a system which no other physician in the world practice. His method of treatment in vigorates the body, stirs up the dormant energie of nature, purifies and cleanses the system, and imparts tone and health to all the organs of the body. His method is the most potent ever discovered, and that it is what it is claimed to be will be established to the entire satisfaction of any one who will investigate.

A PATRON says of the result of the organization in his neighborhood: "The assion of questions of practical interest to Patrons, which form a feature of our grange, is having a tendency to develop not only a better manner of expressing ourselves, but a greater willingness to make the effort. THE Grangers are doing more to protect and establish substantial enterprises in connection with their organizations than all the efforts of legislation and capital have done heretofore. THE patrons of California claim that the grange movement has saved in the one item of wheat the sum of $5,000,-000. It has been done by making war upon the grain rings of San Francisco. Before the grange year 1873, the difference between the price per bushel between San Francisco and Liverpool was about 89 cents. In 1873 it was only sixty-six cents per bushel, thus giving e farmers twenty-three cents more. The saving on the 445,000 tons shipped at San Francisco would be nearly $3,-500,000, besides that shipped from Vallejo. All this is owing to the concert and co-operation of the farmers. THERE are very many things in which Patrons can co-operate beside supplying the family with groceries or shipping now which at first thought seem chimerical, but which can, by proper thought and agitation, and by the proper persons taking hold of them, become practical. A community perfectly united and organized, may perform with cheanness and ease what an individual would find only 54,712 girls to 101,072 boys. impossible. The day may come when hand, to use the surplus.

If the western Grangers are not becoming potent in a political way, they certainly exhibit a wonderful activity collectively, in pushing the individual interests of the farmers. This is especially true in Iowa, where the hay-seed elements have carried the grange system into more branches of every day needs than in any other state. In the course of conversation with a number of southern planters now in the city, the writer obtained views opposed in general tenor to those expressed by the gentlemen above quoted. Col. Edward Richardson, of Mississippi, and of the firm of Richardson & May, of New Orleans, one of the largest cotton planters and dealers in the south, expressed it as his opinion that the coming crop would inevitably disappoint those who fixed their estimate so high. He thought argued that the dealers at the north had one hog-house, where calves and hogs no practical idea of the demoralized and disorganized condition of labor in the south.
